Delmore Asset Management announces the appointment of Peter Stanyer to spearhead new private wealth advisory service

Delmore Asset Management is delighted to announce the appointment of Peter Stanyer as Economist and Strategist to lead, with Howard Goldring, Delmore's chairman and founder, a new private wealth strategic advisory service. Delmore Strategic Advisers (DSA), will offer independent strategic and tactical investment advice together with risk management to family offices and sophisticated private investors.

Peter began his career as an economist with the Bank of England and is a former managing director with the private client division of Merrill Lynch. He serves on the investment committees of two substantial pension funds and of one college endowment. For the past 20 years he has been advising individuals and institutions from around the world on investment strategy and investment risk management.

He has worked closely with Delmore since 2003. He is the author of "Guide to Investment Strategy, how to understand markets, risks, rewards and behaviour", one of The Economist magazine's book series, a second edition of which has just been published.

Commenting on Peter Stanyer's appointment Howard Goldring said "We are delighted that Peter has joined Delmore to lead our family office wealth management service. The extraordinary volatility over the last few years has borne out many of Peter's insights into managing wealth."

Peter Stanyer said: "I am excited to be joining Delmore. I have enormous respect for Delmore's approach to managing private wealth and the success that Delmore has achieved over the years in protecting and growing its clients' wealth."

Delmore Asset Management Ltd specialises in the provision of discretionary management and asset allocation advice for private clients and family offices.
